

December 27, 2010

U.S. Environmental Protection Agency
Jack Boller, Air RCRA Compliance Unit
1200 Sixth Avenue, Suite 900
Seattle, WA 98101

Re: Delta Marine, ID# WAD052593480

Dear Mr. Boller,

This letter is in response to EPA's Notice of Violation, issued to Delta Marine, regarding the Hazardous Waste Management Act and RCRA inspection conducted at Delta on August 12, 2010. The NOV was received by Delta on December 13, 2010.

Based on EPA's findings, the following corrections have been made.

Violation #1 – Failure to label a container of used oil

The maintenance collection drum for used oil is now labeled "USED OIL".

Violation #2 – Failure to close a container of universal waste lamps

The Warehouse box used to store burnt out fluorescent bulbs has been closed.

Violation #3 – Failure to place waste in containers that were closed or not subject to rupture.

The still bottoms have been placed in sealed drums.

Violation #4 – Failure to place a start date on containers of hazardous waste.

Violation #5 - Failure to properly label containers of hazardous waste

Hazardous waste labels with accumulation start date have been placed on the still room drums.

If EPA has any questions or concerns with the actions taken by Delta Marine to correct the noted violations, please contact me.

Kind regards,

Mark Giustino
Human Resource Director

DELTA MARINE INDUSTRIES
1608 SOUTH 96TH STREET
SEATTLE, WASHINGTON 98108 USA
T: 206.763.2383 F: 206.762.2627